2 Peter: A Problem Child in the New Testament Part 2

Last week I touch on the question of authorship regarding 2 Peter. Another issue that theologians from early on noticed was that 2 Peter has more in common with Jude rather than 1 Peter. The reason for this is that 2 Peter 2 and Jude share a good number of common phrases and both address the issue of arrogant and brash heretics. Unlike Paul the emphasis was on their godless behavior as much as their dodgy theology.

There are broadly three possible explanations for the connection between these two letters. The first is that 2 Peter was written first and Jude drew on some the letter in dealing with much the same issue. The other is that Jude was written first and 2 Peter drew on Jude. The other is that both books drew on a separate source that was circulating at the time that included a Christian response to the challenges they addressed.

Again like the question of authorship there is much we simply don't know. Peter and Jude at some point may well have ministered closely and found themselves dealing pastorally with a similar situation. They could well have also shared the same amanuensis or secretary. Some might accuse one of the letters of 'plagiarism' but the technique was 'imitatio', reworking another's material in honour of them for a particular purpose. Whatever the background in the providence of God they both still inform the life of the church and its ministry.

Church Matters

From TEAR Australia

Thanks be to God for His indescribable gift! 2 Corinthians 9:15

We're TEAR Australia, a Christian international relief and development agency working for a just and compassionate world. We're focused in places of great need, partnering with local Christian organisations to end poverty, challenge inequality and build sustainable communities. Together, we act with courage, tackling injustice in order that all may experience fullness of life.

We believe that God calls us to practise radical generosity. TEAR's Useful Gifts Catalogue is built upon the belief that we can all practise generosity. In our homes, in our families, in our schools and in our churches. Each Useful Gift in our catalogue is an act of love and generosity to our global neighbours. A gift that honours God's generosity to us, by sharing it with others.
