THE HOLIDAY CLUB: CO-WORKERS AT WORK

Our series on Colossians comes to an end today. Paul closes his letter, as he usually does, by commending and sending greetings from some of his co-workers who have had something to do with the respective church. We read of Epaphras, John Mark and Onesimus amongst others. The Colossian church came into existence and has grown and prospered because of the hard work of these people and so many others. Christians were loving, serving and supporting one another with the help of the Holy Spirit.

This last week we ran our school holiday club for the second year in a row. We had a slight increase in numbers in comparison to last year and the week went off successfully without any hitches. That was simply because people got involved, they organised, they planned, they did and so God has been very good to us. Some of you provided materials, some of you prayed, some of you came along and helped and some of you led. As we got on with the program we prayed and trusted God was at work in these young lives as they, like the people we talked about, like Zacchaeus, Nicodemus and the Samaritan woman, met Jesus.

I want to express a heartfelt thanks to all involved especially Kaye for organising and to all those participating in this event. The simple reality is that as a church if we do nothing, nothing will happen. Such activities as this are a challenge. They require us to follow the law of the land regarding safety procedures and protocols, but I believe it's worth the effort. God willing some young lives have met Jesus for the first time, or have been encouraged to think about following him, or to keep trusting in him as their Lord and friend. God willing, we will see some of them with Christ at the end of time. That's why it's worth the effort.
