The Paradox that is David?

The more you get to know David the more of a paradox David becomes. He is a controversial figure for good reason. At his best we see a diplomat, warrior, lover, prophet and poet. We see remarkable faith and heartfelt repentance. At his worst he was a womaniser and murderer. He played favourites, had a temper and succumbed to the perils of pride and power.

In his faith he serves as an example to us all of what it means to trust in God in all circumstances. In his failings he serves as a challenge to us all. He ought to send a chill down our spine as he highlights our own temptations, struggles and failings.

In David we have been blessed with so many of his Psalms and in his steadfast hope in the greater Son and Messiah who was to come. To truly understand what it meant for Jesus to be the Messiah means understanding something of this complex man.

Finally he reminds us the promises of God are not contingent upon the recipient and their conduct. Through faith they work themselves out but they are not null and void or corrupted by faithlessness and sin.

Michael Stuart

Church Matters

Hello everyone,

Over the last few months Fred Acott has been very busy making our church Fire Safe. He has created a Muster Point in the front garden, placed alarms in the church building, written policies and procedures which have been emailed to everyone and has made sure that all groups that meet in the church have their evacuation plans ready. Thank you Fred!

As part of an evacuation plan, it is usual to practice a fire drill. Please be aware of this and be prepared to evacuate the building in an orderly manner and congregate at the muster sign in the front carpark when the alarm sounds. Always be aware of the people who are sitting around you in church and check that they are with you when you reach the muster point.

For anyone who would like to send a very brief message to Bec we will give you the chance during morning tea today.

Love in Christ,

Lynne Smith (People's Warden)
