Old Church — New Life

3rd April 2016

Eastertide

In the church calendar the season after Easter is of course Eastertide. It's an opportunity to consider the mission the risen Christ gave to the Apostles and to the church that he had just formed. The season culminates in the celebrations of Pentecost and Trinity, the gift of his Holy Spirit through whom we serve as witnesses to Christ. Mission for the church and for our church is not an optional extra. It's a given because we are the people of God, brought out of darkness into God's light through Christ, empowered and set free for love and service of God, one another and the wider world. We are to do what we are. As a result for the next two months we are picking up where we left off with the book of Acts. Having looked at the growth of the church into Samaria and the conversions of Cornelius and of Saul the book moves into Paul's missionary journeys as the good news of Jesus spreads across the Empire and both Jew and Gentile respond to the call of Jesus, the call that goes forth today here in Karrinyup.
