Old Church — New Life

31st December 2017

A New Year, a New World?

In the past when the New Year was about to come, I would sometimes spend the night watching the shows reviewing the year that was or simply go out and see in the New Year. Nowadays I just get a good night's sleep and try and get used to putting the right year when dating a document. Many of us have a way of marking this changing season as we do other times of transition, looking back to what was and look forward to what could be.

When the Magi visited the baby Jesus they too recognised a moment of profound change that would shape Israel, the Roman Empire and the World. Christmas though is so much more than a seasonal celebration. One possible reason why early Christians did not celebrate it each year was because they recognised that fact that it was a pivotal, one off event that continues the great story of God, the first step in Jesus' coming to restore and redeem a lost and broken world. We look back to what was this day but we also look forward to the New Year and more importantly to our Lord's return and the renewal of all things.

THIS WEEKS READINGS:

Jeremiah 52:1-16, 31-34

Galatians 4:4-7

Luke 2:22-40
